

“Fish Stories?”

February 10, 2019

Based on Luke 5:1-11 (NIV) Neil Peck, preaching

† Many people of their day probably doubted the truth of what Peter, Andrew, James and John told them.

† The disciples walked away from great material value (the fish) and instead followed Jesus.

† The disciples traded fish stories for faith stories.

† Ever since the days of Jesus, people have been sharing their faith stories.

† At some point in my life, someone has shared a faith story with me.

† All my life I have been gathering my own faith story.

† The disciples trusted Jesus to guide them.

† I need to trust Jesus to guide me.

† God wants me to tell my “fishing for people” stories.

Applying Today’s Message to My Life:

† Who do I know that enjoys fishing?

- Do they tell any “fish stories”?

† What “fish stories” (highly unlikely stories) have I told?

† What has shared their “faith stories” with me?

† What “faith stories” have I experienced?

† How can I be a “fisher of men (or women)” this week?
