

“The Service Path”

Based on Mark 9:33-37 (NIV)

Neil Peck, preaching September 30, 2018

† I never really lose my sinful childishness. I just have more mature ways of hiding it.

† There's only one who truly deserves to be first in my life and that's God!

† In Jesus' time, Jewish children were to be seen and not heard.

† The disciples didn't understand Jesus' teaching at the time.

† Service means sacrificing my time, talents, treasures, and myself for the sake of others, even when they do not realize or appreciate it.

Applying Today's Message to My Life:

† Who has served me in some way this past week?

† Whom have I served in the past week?

† How have I been childish (silly and immature) when I was asked to be in God's service?

† How have I been childlike (open and trusting) when I was asked to be in God's service?

† What is one way that God is calling me to serve him with my time, talent, treasures or myself?
